

WALKING DELEGATE'S
BIG CYCLE CAMPAIGN.
Delinquent Electrical Workers Find Themselves Hunted
by a "Scorcher."

William Ivory, of Union No. 3, Mounts
His New Wheel and Rides Forth to Conquer.

SECEDEES BROUGHT TO SUBMISSION.

Many Members of No. 5 Go Back to the Fold to Avoid Strikes on Buildings and in Shops.

William J. Ivory, walking delegate of Electrical Workers' Union No. 3, started out early yesterday morning on his new bicycle, on an active campaign against a union composed of alleged delinquents.
This union is known as Electrical Workers' Union No. 5.

Delegate Ivory's mission is to see that no members of No. 3 work with members of No. 5, unless the latter agree to join No. 3, which the Board of Walking Delegates regards as the only bona fide union of electrical workers.

His progress yesterday might be described as that of a conqueror. A glistering plate inscribed "Electrical Workers' Union No. 3" adorned the front of the wheel, behind the handle bars. The wheel is a large one, as Delegate Ivory is six feet tall.

Ivory began his progress when early riders were getting out of their beds and rode downtown to two buildings, where members of No. 5 were at work with a large number of No. 3 men. The No. 3 men were told to stop work, which they did promptly. After they had been out only a short time the contractors capitulated. Then it was agreed that the No. 5 men should join No. 3.

The delegate then visited three shops, the owners of which employ No. 5 men. The owners made an appointment for a conference in order to avoid strikes. As the places are long distances apart, Delegate Ivory had then to postpone his campaign for the day in order to report progress at the meeting of the Board of Walking Delegates, in the afternoon. He could not give out the names of the places sited for publication.

"I believe," he said yesterday afternoon,
"we will be able to conduct our fight successfully, without the aid of the Board of Walking Delegates. Our programme is simple. Either the members of No. 5, who are working on buildings alongside of No. 3 men, will have to join No. 3, or the No. 3 men, who are by far in the majority, will strike. Six quiet strikes have taken place and been won since active war was declared upon No. 5, last week.

"The latter is made up of delinquent members of No. 3, who remained at work during a strike against the Electrical Contractors' Association. They were afterwards taken into the American Federation of Labor into a union of non-union men, and the bosses have been using this organization as a club to fight our union.
Arbitration was tried and failed and now our union has determined to fight. Within the last week or so 180 members of No. 5 have joined No. 3. The latter has now nearly 600 members in good standing, while No. 5 has not 50 members, all told." William J. Ivory is one of the best organizers of the Electrical Workers, which began practically as a new trade eleven years ago. He was among those who brought about an iron-clad agreement between the Electrical Workers' Union and the contractors, by which all candidates for positions as electrical workers must undergo a rigid examination as to their competency and experience.

DR. "JIM'S" TRIAL BEGUN.

Friends of the Transvaal Raiders and Many Members of the Bar Crowd the Court Room.

London, July 20.—The trial of Dr. Lionel S. Jameson and his fellow officers in the Transvaal raid—the Hon. Henry F. Conventry, Major R. White, Colonel H. E. White, Major Sir John Buller, and Colonel R. G. Grey, who were indicted by the Grand Jury for violation of the Foreign Enlistment Act a month ago, began in the Queen's Bench Division of the High Court of Justice this morning before three judges—Lord Russell, of Killowen, Lord Chief Justice of England, presiding; Sir Henry Hawkins and Baron Pollock.

The court room was crowded with friends of the accused men, and there were also present a large number of members of the bar. The counsel engaged in the case are numerous. When the case was opened, it was understood that the taking of testimony would be preceded by a long series of legal arguments.

Sir Edward Clarke, senior counsel for the defense, began by moving that the indictment be quashed upon the ground that the case did not come under the operation of the Foreign Enlistment Act, under which the defendants were charged.

Sir R. E. Webster, Attorney-General, replied on behalf of the prosecution to Sir Edward Clarke, and the court adjourned.

DEATH OF COL. HUNGERFORD.

Father of Mrs. John W. Mackay Passes Away in Rome.

Rome, July 20.—Colonel Daniel E. Hungerford, father of Mrs. John W. Mackay, died at his home in this city at 11 A. M. to-day in the presence of the members of his family, who were summoned to his bedside some days ago because of the serious character of his illness.

Colonel Hungerford had been suffering from a tumor of the liver, the cause of his death, for some time.

Colonel Hungerford was a native of Herkimer County, N. Y. Going to California in 1849, he remained on the Pacific coast until the breaking out of the civil war, when he returned to New York, and from that State entered the Union army as Lieutenant.
Colonel of the Twenty-sixth Regiment of New York Volunteers. In 1877 he removed to Europe, but two years later returned to New York. In 1887 he took up his residence permanently in Rome.

MURDER OF A FARMER'S WIFE.

Monterey, Mex., July 20.—The wife of Carmen Morales, a farmer living near here, was on her way to this city when she was attacked by a Mexican and her body died by the fall of the horse she had been riding.
The horse was made to run away, and the woman was dragged to death.

BRIGANDAGE, NOT REVOLT

That Was the Principal Aim of the Rioters in Guatemala—Convicts Looted a Town.

Guatemala, June 24.—The uprising at the town of Chichiquila and vicinity has turned out to be a much smaller affair than at first expected. When the first news reached the capital rumors were rife as to partisans in Honduras and Salvador having a hand in this revolt, but it now seems to have been nothing but a raid for robbing purposes.

General Pio Porta and several other rich citizens were made to pay over $20,000 in the shape of forced loans. Captain Mateo Lone was bought over by the rebels, and his troops were given all the liquor they could drink, the upshot of the matter being that the convicts at the penitentiary were set free, so that highway robbery became the order of the day.

All the authorities were imprisoned, the District Judge escaping through a window after having been fired at and wounded by the guards. President Reyna Barrios acted very promptly, and had over three thousand men in the field before the rebels were even aware of the news being spread to the interior. The mountain artillery corps did good work, and the Minister of War, Don

PRESIDENT CLEVELAND PRESENT.

A Remarkable Display of Floral Pieces in the Church—Eloquent Eulogy Delivered by Rev. M.
Mackenzie.

Cambridge, Mass., July 20.—All that was mortal of the ex-Chief Magistrate of the State William E. Russell was seen this afternoon looked upon for the last time and committed to the earth.

Thousands of people were in Cambridge, including delegations from the city governments of Boston, Chelsea, Lynn, Lawrence, Haverhill, Lowell, Newton and other places.
President Cleveland, Joseph Jefferson and the officials of the State were also here.
After a private service at the house, the body was conveyed to the Cambridge City Hall, whence, after lying in state for three hours, it was taken to the Shepard Memorial Church, at the corner of Garden and Mason streets, in Old Cambridge, where the funeral service was held.

There was a magnificent display of flowers in the church. It seemed as if the many friends of the dead ex-Governor and lawyer had joined in an effort to give an adequate floral expression to the common sorrow at the loss of a valued public man, and the whole chancel was a mass of palms and flowers, which stood out in beautiful contrast with the rich, dark finial of the interior.

FLORAL TRIBUTES FROM FRIENDS.

In front of the altar steps were massed the many tributes from friends and societies, spreading outward from each side of the space reserved for the coffin toward the transepts. From the front of the lectern hung a wreath of yond lilies, while its base was almost concealed with other clusters of the same flowers. These were from William C. Whitney. The city of Cambridge was represented by a floral copy of the city seal, done in carnations and white pinks and roses against a background of green, relieved with other hues.
A wreath of red and white roses with lilies of the valley was sent by the Acting Governor and ex-Council, a wreath of lilies and knot of flowers represented the sympathy of Mrs. Frederick T. Greenhalge, and there were many other tributes from friends, political and personal. In New Fall River, Lowell and other places throughout the State.

The membership was one of the most noteworthy ever seen in Massachusetts.
The list of distinguished men who attended a long one. The dining room was filled for cards of admission this morning was in excess of the number printed and the capacity of the church. Many persons holding cards were unable to secure seats.

President Cleveland and two members of the latter's staff sat in the front row to the left of the centre aisle. The rest of the Acting Governor's staff occupied the pew immediately behind them. In the pew sat Mr. and Mrs. Endicott and Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Nichols. Behind them were Dr. and Mrs. Lincoln Stone, Judges of the Supreme Court, President Eliot and other representatives of Harvard University, the Cambridge city government and organizations with which Governor Russell was connected.

Rev. Mr. Mackenzie's eulogy upon the dead ex-Governor was a masterpiece, delivered with the eloquence of an orator, and by a preacher who had been a close personal friend of the dead man. There was an added feeling and a deeper tone of earnestness, which made the utterance come from the heart.

After the services at the church the body was taken to Mount Auburn and interred in the family lot on Grapevine path, in the southwestern corner of the cemetery. The burial was private, and was attended only by the family and immediate relatives.

PRESIDENT BACK AT GRAY GABLES.

Buzzards' Bay, Mass., July 20.—The President returned to Gray Gables at 8:22 p. m. by special train from Boston, where he had attended the funeral of ex-Governor Russell. The flag on the staff at Gray Gables to-day was at half mast.

COUDERT TO STUDY DUTCH

Scholarly New York Venezuelan Commissioner to Inspect Muzey Archives in Holland.

Washington, July 20.—While negotiations have been going on between the State Department at Washington and the British Foreign Office the Venezuelan Boundary Commission has been steadily at work pushing on its work of investigation. Abroad Professor George L. Burr has been diving into the Dutch archives at The Hague. His work is said to throw much light on the merits of the controversy. In this work he is being ably assisted by Dr. De Haan, of Baltimore. The latter is a linguist of rare proficiency. Professor Burr will shortly be joined by Dr. Frederick R. Coudert, who has studied Europe last Saturday. While abroad Mr. Coudert will inspect the Dutch archives and then push on to Rome to superintend the investigations now being carried on in the archives of the Propaganda with respect to the commencement, extent and duration of the Catholic missions in the disputed territory.

On this side of the water the work is being prosecuted with equal vigor. Mr. Marcus Baker, of the United States Government, Dr. Harvey, Dr. De Haan, who has been hard at work at his home in Maine; President Brewer, on Lake Champlain; Judge Alvey, at Hagerstown; Dr. White, at Ithaca, and Mr. Walter D. Brown, at Benning, Bluff, Mass., are making ready.

JAPS TOO AGGRESSIVE.

Hawaiians Determined to Oppose the Cheap Labor and Merchandise of the Thrifty Orientals.

Honolulu, July 19, via San Francisco, July 20.—The Japanese Government has cattered the license of Ogura & Co., the largest local Japanese firm of contractors supplying labor to plantations. The reasons for this action are not known at the Japanese Consulate, but from other sources it is learned that the firm has been reported for alleged "crookedness" in carrying out labor contracts here.

There is considerable complaint lately by white merchants that they are being crowded to the wall by Japanese shops and the importation of cheap merchandise of Japan.
It is alleged that Japanese trade here is not only seriously affecting local white trade, but that it is largely cutting into American trade and importations, as will be made painfully evident when the customs returns from the coming year are in.

The planters of Hawaii, who have been quietly working for months to shelve the popular question of annexation, have now reached a point where they do not strive to hide their real object, which may be briefly summed up as expressed by one of their leaders a few days since to your correspondent:

"No, I can't say that all our planters are opposed to annexation, but our aim is that we are all united to back any compromise of the annexationists which will secure us
